

FSILG Alumni Volunteer Toolkit

<https://alum.mit.edu/volunteering/VolunteerTools/FSILGVolunteerToolkit/>

Volunteering:

Volunteer Roles - There are many opportunities to assist in each chapter's Alumni Corporation or Advisory Board or in areas that contribute to overall FSILG community goals.

Volunteer Awards - Here are some ways to recognize and honor those who serve the FSILG community.

Philosophy and best practices - This is a collection of useful information from some of the national organizations and the Alumni Association.

Recording Volunteer Service - The Alumni Association's services are available to reliably store any or all of a chapter's volunteer service records.

Useful Volunteer Information - These are some tips on practical items, like MIT campus parking and obtaining Alumni ID cards.

Communication:

Mailing Lists - The Alumni Association has created a moderated listserv for every chapter.

Member reports - Officers of House Corporation can request reports of FSILG members, volunteers, and demographics.

Alumni Site Builder - This web site building and hosting kit will soon be available.

Targeted Web Content - The Association can send targeted message to a member of a specific group at Infinite Connection logon time.

FSILG Reunions, Celebrations, and Recognition:

History (PDF) - FSILGs milestones are a good time to involve your whole community.

Awards - There are several opportunities to honor those who serve the FSILG community.

Event Planning Assistance - The Alumni Association can help in planning your events, including the use of SmarTrans for on-line event registration and credit card payments.

Connecting to Campus Events:

Alumni Leadership Conference. Every fall the ALC brings in hundreds of active MIT volunteers and leaders from all over the globe. The conference now features an FSILG session track.

In April, the Campus Preview Weekend brings hundreds of prospective freshman and their parents to MIT.

In June, FSILG events can be listed in the Commencement Weekend registration booklet for Tech Reunions.

In October, Family Weekend is a good time to showcase the FSILG community.

Financial:

The FSILG Fundraising Guide - This new document can assist chapters trying to raise money for chapter capital improvements or renovations.

Donor Recognition - FSILG donors who give directly to a chapter can be listed in the Association Annual Report.

Independent Residence Development Fund - The IRDF is a funding source dedicated to the FSILG community.

Special Chapter Funds - MIT's FSILGs also have set up a variety of funds to benefit members. Alpha Tau Omega's Macomber Loan Fund is a great example.

If you would like more information than is provided in this toolkit, please contact Bob Ferrara, Director FSILG Alumni Relations at rferrara@mit.edu or 617-253-7495.